DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-17, drawn to a method of inhibiting replication of a virus comprising contacting a nucleocapsid protein of the virus with a compound having the structure defined in the claims.

Group II, claim(s) 18-19, drawn to a compound having the structure defined in the claims.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The technical feature that is shared between Groups I and II is the phenyl group. In the instant, the structure defined for the compound of Group I is a antimony containing compound that also comprises a phenyl group; whereas, the compound of Group II is compound comprising a diphenyl group. Hence, the technical feature that is shared between the inventions listed as Groups I-II is the phenyl group. However, this technical feature does not provide a contribution over the prior art, as evidenced by Kuriyama et al.¹ Kuriyama et al. teaches an antimony containing compound that also comprises a phenyl group. [Line 50, column 4] In the absence of a contribution over the prior art, the technical feature shared between the inventions of Groups I-II is not a shared special technical feature. Without a shared special technical feature, the inventions listed as Groups I-II lack unity with one another.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
